

WHAT'S? IN IT FOR ME?

PUBLIC PROCUREMENT AWARDS

The Government of Jamaica (GOJ) is changing the culture of how public procurement is perceived through the implementation of the Public Procurement Awards. This prestigious awards ceremony, which is geared at celebrating excellence in public procurement, will affirm procurement leadership, procurement efficiency and procurement innovation.

This means public procurement practitioners within the public service who excel in different areas of public procurement and meet the required criteria will be awarded and affirmed for their contribution to enhancing and advancing public procurement in their various organisations and by extension Jamaica. This step is a critical component of the move to professionalise the public procurement function in Jamaica.

The GOJ is aiming to make public procurement a rewarding career choice for Jamaicans to be of service to their country.

WHAT YOU SHOULD REMEMBER:

The Public Procurement Awards is geared at affirming the efforts of public procurement practitioners within the public service.

The Public Procurement Awards will change the culture of how public procurement is perceived.

Public procurement is a rewarding career choice with various levels and stages to excel.

WHAT'S? IN IT FOR ME?

The implementation of the Public Procurement Awards will affirm practitioners who excel in public procurement while also encouraging Jamaicans to pursue a career path in procurement.

The Ministry of Finance and the Public Service is committed to affirming the work and worth of public servants across government including our dedicated public procurement practitioners.