

WHAT'S? IN IT FOR ME!

GOOD BOARD PERFORMANCE

The Government of Jamaica (GoJ) in its effort to have a structured system of appointment for directors of public body boards, has established an online portal for applicants desirous of becoming a prospective director. This will ensure that public body boards operate at international standards with the use of best practices, in the screening and assessment of candidates before being appointed to serve on a board. A strong and effective board understands the importance of management and recognises the importance of transparency and good governance. As such, the board performance evaluation instrument for Jamaican public bodies assesses the performance of public body boards, board committees, board chairs and individual board members.

The effectiveness of public body boards and board members is being measured against 10 characteristics of strong board performance. These criteria and principles for boards take into account a variety of best-practice governance standards.

WHAT YOU SHOULD REMEMBER

The 10 dimensions of good board performance:

Roles and Relationships

Board Composition

Ethics and Culture

Strategy and Performance

Internal Controls and Systems

Risk and Compliance Management

CEO Appointment and Performance

Financial Governance

Board Processes

Stakeholder Engagement

WHAT'S? IN IT FOR ME!

With the board performance evaluation framework, you are assured of good board performance.

Through constant assessment, each board member will provide feedback on how effectively their board exemplifies the necessary qualities of good governance and management of the public body board.

